

WELL, WELL, WILLINGDON: A view of the swish Willingdon Club at Haji Ali. The club is one of the toniest in South Mumbai and is one of the most coveted memberships to flaunt

PARK HARK: The Joggers Park at Bandra looks like a bowl of green amidst all that concrete. The Park recently got its most famous neighbour — cricketer Sachin Tendulkar

RACE FACE: One may not be able to see the horses, but this is their home. The Mahalaxmi racecourse is in view. We now know why this space is called the lung of SoBo and politicians eye it greedily

WORLI VIEW: A shot of the Nehru Planetarium, Discovery of India building and NSCI. These pictures were taken from a chopper, which took children afflicted with cancer on a joy ride. The initiative was a joint venture between Pawan Hans and the Cancer Patients Aid Association
